

Premikati Center of Excellence

Achieve Visibility, Increased Velocity,
Reduced Risk, and Financial Savings

Digital transformation is necessary for long-term success, and digital success relies on a Center of Excellence (COE) to implement and support best-in-class processes. Premikati's COE solutions combine business and IT talent with industry best practices to achieve continued value from your SAP technology. With Premikati, you'll be supported by a procurement consulting firm specifically focused on helping you uncomplicate the buying process and slash costs.

Premikati's COE delivers process enhancements, smarter resource management and streamlined workflows to guarantee time savings and better communication for our clients. Our COE solutions rely on intelligent automation to increase speed and efficiency, which results in a higher quality of service.

The Premikati Difference

How do you get excellent results from your investment? By having the right partner in your corner. Our team of COE experts help you develop expertise and process standardization, driving organizational clarity and laying a foundation for growth. Premikati's COE helps you enable flexible innovation and provide full visibility across your organization.

We Are Proud to Be:

- ▶ An SAP Gold Partner
- ▶ A WBENC-Certified, Woman-Owned Business
- ▶ A Team of SAP Ariba Experts

What do you get with Premikati's Center of Excellence?

Procurement Transformation

We have the experience and staff to guide your company through a complete transformation project including people, processes and technology considerations.

Change Management

We help equip your company to drive and sustain change through a holistic diagnosis of your organization's risk and readiness, and the design and execution of stakeholder management and strategic communication plan.

Process Improvement

Premikati has the methods, tools and experience to help you establish a core capability around process improvement, continually evolving as your needs change.

Technology Implementation

Whether your company is implementing one module or a full procurement suite, we bring an experienced staff that does the technical implementation and ensures you're using the tech in the best way to fit your unique needs.

Why Should Your Business Invest in COE?

We believe that a company should put its best talent to work on the relationships with its internal customers and suppliers, with procurement acting as a mediation group between the two. Our strategies place this relationship into the core of procurement at the intersection of legal, finance, risk management, treasury and business units. Premikati has the experience and staff to guide your company through a complete transformation project, helping you get the most ROI from your processes and technology through change management, process improvement and technology implementation.

Premikati's Center of Excellence is Designed to Enhance:

- ▶ Project Management
- ▶ Workflow Methodologies
- ▶ IT Governance
- ▶ Knowledge Management
- ▶ Technology Management
