In a volatile global economy, scaling supplier management becomes more important than ever before. Yet the complex array of stakeholders and systems involved makes this challenging. With onboarding, qualification, and segmentation typically separated from other procurement processes – and supplier data spread across multiple sources – visibility into the supply base is limited, reducing your ability to ensure supply chain transparency and stability.

The SAP® Ariba® Supplier Lifecycle and Performance solution can transform these inefficiencies, allowing you to automate and streamline supplier management, better align with procurement, and gain a comprehensive view of all supplier information. As a result, you can drive more spend to preferred suppliers, eliminate savings leakage, and prevent supply chain disruptions by responding quickly and effectively to shifting market conditions.
